

Marketing Projects Portfolio

Selected Campaigns, Content Concepts, and Strategy Work

Portfolio Overview

This portfolio highlights selected marketing projects developed through academic work and practical experience. The projects focus on visibility, content strategy, audience engagement, and brand communication.

LinkedIn Content Series

A weekly educational series titled 'What's One Thing You Wish You Knew...' was developed to explain luxury real estate topics in an accessible and engaging format. The concept supports thought leadership and professional brand positioning.

Monday Spotlight

This Instagram and Facebook series was designed to revive visibility for listings that had not been promoted recently. The approach connects tracking data with practical content planning.

Property Marketing Plans

Marketing plans were created for properties needing stronger exposure. These plans considered target audiences, content formats, messaging, channel choice, and follow-up actions.

TikTok Strategy

A competitor-based TikTok strategy was developed to explore how short-form video could support awareness, property storytelling, and audience growth.

Creative Strengths

- Campaign ideation
- Visual storytelling
- Content series development
- Audience-focused messaging
- Translating research into practical action

Tools and Methods

- Canva and presentation tools
- Social media research
- Content calendars
- Visibility tracking

- Competitor benchmarking
- Basic KPI thinking

Conclusion

The projects demonstrate an ability to combine creativity with structure. The next step is to deepen measurement, testing, and performance analysis so future campaigns can be optimized based on results.
